Three-county coke bust nets 27 arrests

More than two dozen people have been charged as part of a cocaine trafficking ring in Philadelphia, Montgomery and Chester counties, officials announced yesterday.

The investigation began in November 2008, centered around a Chester County barbershop operated by Anthony Dennis. Authorities claim Dennis and his brother, Michael, sold large amounts of cocaine to several people, including drug dealers in Montgomery County.

Following a series of wiretaps, authorities busted the Dennis brothers and one of their alleged suppliers, Sam Marshall, on May 18 during a purported transaction in the parking lot of Target on City Avenue. They recovered nine ounces of cocaine and $9,200 in cash.

That same day, authorities conducted raids at 21 locations in the three counties, arresting three people and recovering about four pounds of cocaine worth $205,000; $76,308 in cash; a dozen firearms; two bulletproof vests and a 19-foot Pro Line fishing boat.

"It was a complete collaborative effort undertaken by a number of jurisdictions ... all for the good of the public."

Again, it's Nutter's lonely soda fight

Mayor takes argument for education ◗ Says 'I'm the mayor, but my best title is dad' ◗ Soda tax outcome anyone's guess ◗ 'Green' priorities laid out

Mayor Michael Nutter explained his decision to address city residents on live television the night before today's budget debate as a chance to re-emphasize the importance of finding revenues to fund the school district, as he's talked about before.

"We're at a critical juncture, literally, for the future of Philadelphia," said Nutter, who warned cutting services could harm the same people they're trying to help. "We can't just shuffle the deck to see if a better card comes up. We need to make sure we're not robbing Peter to pay Paul. You keep fighting until the final bell is rung, and we're not at that point yet."

Asked about the vocal opposition to his "soda tax" proposal, he said, "they're worked up because of the [special] interests that are working them up."

Nutter's 2-cents-per-ounce sugary-drink tax proposal hasn't gained much support in Council, which could vote on it at this morning's meeting. One councilman said yesterday afternoon that the vote count "is getting closer by the second."

▶ A crowd gathered at 15th and Market streets to hear the city's Greenworks plans.

Bus stop turned garden

At an event at 15th and Market streets to showcase the city's first bus-shelter green roof and release of the 2011 Greenworks Philadelphia progress report, Deputy Mayor Rina Cutler said, "There are 10.5 acres of green roofs in Philadelphia, but they're all on the tops of buildings. We want to try to bring it down to ground level to show every little bit of hardscape can be transformed into green space."

It cost a donated $10,000 to put a garden atop one of the city's 300 bus shelters. The city hopes to do more.

Dead fish, body in same creek

PHILADELPHIA. The dead man found in a Delaware County creek yesterday had nothing to do with the dead fish washing up on its shores earlier in the week, according to officials.

"That does not seem to be in any way related or a possibility," said Deborah Fries of the state Environmental Protection Agency, which tested Crum Creek's water on Tuesday but could not determine a definitive cause of the "relatively small" fish kill that occurred June 13.

The body of an unidentified male was discovered in the creek yesterday shortly after 10 a.m.

Corrupt cops sorry, get 15 years in jail

- Two who robbed cop posing as drug dealer apologize
- Officials say case will haunt PPD's goodwill efforts

Two former police officers who attempted to rob an undercover cop posing as a drug dealer were sentenced to up to 15 years in prison yesterday.

Sean Alivera, 31, and Christopher Luciano, 24, colluded with drug dealers to arrest a rival, leaving 20 pounds of marijuana in the car they stopped at American and Cambria streets in October. When arrested at the 25th District, Alivera had $4,000 in cash on him; the marijuana was never recovered.

Both apologized for the shame they brought upon the department, their families and peers before Judge Lillian Ransom sentenced each to five years for possession with intent to distribute narcotics and five to 10 years for robbery.

Luciano's attorney, Fortunato Perri Jr., spoke to his client afterward and said the sentence "was not unexpected. It's very fair and reasonable. Chris accepted responsibility for his actions. He needs to take time to piece his life back together. I think he's capable of doing that."

Gerald Stein, who represented Alivera, said, "he's taking it as best one would expect. He knows what he did was a serious lapse in good judgment." Prosecutors initially offered a 15- to 30-year deal.

Badges removed

Commissioner Charles Ramsey sent a two-page "victim statement" for pre-sentencing consideration. It read, in part, "These men used their office for evil rather than good. ... The criminal acts committed are so grievous and reprehensible that I will remove the badges they wore from service."

HELP FEED HUNGRY

SEPTA

GENERAL MANAGER

You may be familiar with the Metro Q&A feature where I answer questions about SEPTA. Today, I want to use this space to reach out to you again, this time to ask for your help for the our annual Stop Hunger At Your Station campaign.

Our third annual food drive ends next week and we urgently need your help and support for Philabundance and their great work to fight hunger.

Many families across the Delaware Valley continue to struggle to put food on the table and with summer recess starting, many children will be missing the nourishing meals they receive from school meal programs.

More info

For a list of locations to drop of food — and what type of food is encouraged — go to our website, www.septa.org. Click on the main link in the center of the page.

Philabundance supplies our region's food bank network but they can't do it without our help.

If you've already given, please accept my sincere thanks for your generosity. If you haven't, there is still time to make a difference. You can drop off food items at designated SEPTA stations or make a contribution — just look for a SEPTA Ambassador with a collection container.

Uptown Theater still in need of big donations

Historical site known once for attracting musicians big as James Brown, Patti LaBelle says its close to rebuilding But still needs about $5M private money

Some notable names in the Philadelphia music scene will come together next weekend to help raise funds for the $8 million renovation of a historic North Philadelphia theater.

The Uptown Entertainment and Development Corp. will host a three-day Philly Music Appreciation Celebration at the North Broad Street venue, which once hosted performances by legends like Patti LaBelle and James Brown, but has been shuttered since the mid-'90s. Construction is under way and organizers hope to reopen this fall with a technology center, recording studio, catering facility and office space.

"It's very exciting to come from a point where the organization was getting complaints ... about vandalism," said Linda Richardson, president and CEO of the group, who has been the driving force behind the renovation since getting involved in 1995.

The project has received state, local and federal funding, but Richardson said they still need about $5 million, and the events next weekend will kick off corporate fundraising efforts.

Richardson said there are also plans to restore the auditorium and balcony for use as an entertainment venue which would be managed by an outside group. The facility is expected to provide up to 200 jobs when renovation is completed.

"What we want to do is provide technological opportunities for young people," she said. "[This area] is very underserved so we're working with several entities to try and provide technology access as part of our youth programming."

Moving out of Palin's shadow

WASHINGTON. For months, Republicans Michele Bachmann and Sarah Palin were portrayed as political twins, the fiery Tea Party favorites who would vie to lead a conservative assault on President Barack Obama.

But with her entry in the 2012 Republican nominating battle and a strong debate performance, Bachmann has quickly moved out of Palin's shadow and on to the national stage with newfound credibility. REUTERS

Greek PM plans to reshuffle gov't

ATHENS. Greek Prime Minister George Papandreou said he will form a new cabinet and seek a vote of confidence from his fractious Socialist party to see through a harsh austerity bill, the target of major protests

The move followed a Papandreou offer to step down and form a unity government with opposition parties, a gesture he abandoned after the conservative New Democracy demanded Athens renegotiate its year-old, 110-billion-euro international bailout. REUTERS

Silicon Valley gets tech housing boost

As companies go public, newly wealthy workers look to invest south of San Francisco ◐ Median price in area jumped 20 percent in the last year

A surge in wealth from technology stock sales and initial public offerings is spilling into the Silicon Valley real estate market as newly rich workers bid up home values in suburban cities south of San Francisco.

The median price of single-family houses sold in Palo Alto, home of Facebook Inc., climbed 20 percent in May from a year earlier to $1.63 million, the biggest jump since 2008, according to preliminary figures from research company DataQuick. In Mountain View, the base of LinkedIn Corp., prices rose 3.1 percent to $957,500, the ninth year-over-year gain in 12 months.

The advances are defying a U.S. housing slump that has sent national values to an eight-year low. Share sales such as the IPO of LinkedIn — which doubled on its first day of trading — and an expected offering from Facebook will fuel a boom in some Silicon Valley cities into 2013, said Kenneth Rosen, an economist at the University of California, Berkeley.

Almost 300 companies have filed for IPOs in 2011, the most for any year during the same period since 2000, and more than 10 percent of those are in California

"It's just the beginning of the story and I suspect we'll see an explosion in the next couple years," Rosen, chairman of the school's Fisher Center for Real Estate and Urban Economics, said in a telephone interview. "You've got young people with real money, and it's not surprising they want to have a house." BLOOMBERG

Comparatively

- Housing in much of the rest of the nation is struggling as foreclosures and unemployment of more than 9 percent weigh on consumer sentiment.
- Home prices in 20 U.S. cities dropped 3.6 percent in March from a year earlier to the lowest since 2003, according to a property value index.

▶ Flags bearing Pandora's name hang outside the New York Stock Exchange yesterday as the company went public.

Pandora stock for song? Nope

Pandora Media Inc. made a splashy public debut as investors shrugged off years of financial losses by the online radio company for the chance to get in on the red-hot market for startups.

Shares of Pandora, the latest Web company to test the public markets, soared as much as 48 percent yesterday before handing back those gains to finish 9 percent higher.

"Pandora is incredibly enticing at a surface level because millions ... of people are using it. I think there is a love factor that is getting investors interested in it."
LAZARD CAPITAL MARKETS ANALYST BARTON CROCKETT

Although Pandora was the second biggest gainer on the New York Stock Exchange, the company could not avoid criticism by those who raised doubts about its business model and warned the market could be bound for another bubble.

One major concern about Pandora: The bigger its audience gets, the more it must pay to record labels, hurting its chances of turning a profit.

CEO Joseph Kennedy said there was no timeline to turn a profit, though a larger audience should attract advertising dollars.

The stock closed the day at $17.42, above its IPO price of $16 a share, bucking the broader market sell-off and implying a total value of $2.8 billion for the company. REUTERS

SEC seeks additional broker oversight

WASHINGTON. Securities brokers would be more closely scrutinized by auditors and be subject to stricter oversight of their handling of customers' assets under a plan proposed by federal regulators yesterday.

The proposal by the Securities and Exchange Commission is meant to improve oversight of broker-dealers in the wake of Bernard Madoff's massive Ponzi scheme.

The SEC failed to catch Madoff's scheme despite multiple tips and agency examinations of his operations. Investors are still seeking to recover billions of dollars. REUTERS

Academy Awards revise 10 Best Picture nod rule

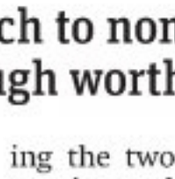
They won't stretch to nominate 10 if there aren't enough worthy films

Finally, the voice of reason: It was revealed this week that the Academy for Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is going to scale back the Best Picture nomination category. Now, between five and 10 films may be nominated.

"A best picture nomination should be an indication of extraordinary merit," said retiring Academy executive director Bruce Davis. "If there are only eight pictures that truly earn that honor in a given year, we shouldn't feel an obligation to round out the number."

Hmm, I think we can pinpoint a few times this has happened already during the two years the 10-nominee rule was in effect. Did anyone really think "The Kids Are Alright" or "127 Hours" or "Toy Story 3" was true a Best Picture contender? What about 2009 films "The Blind Side" and "An Education?" All these films were good, but picturing any of them winning the Best Picture Oscar seemed improbable.

Could this be an admission that, more often than not, the major studios can't manage to put out 10 outstanding films a year? Most likely.



HEIDI PATALANO

Mobile phones are safe after all?

NEW YORK. Brain tumors among cell phone users are not clustered within range of most of the radiation emitted from the devices, a new report finds — suggesting that mobile phones do not cause cancer.

Moreover, people who had used mobile phones for the longest amount of time, and spent the most time on the phones, were no more likely to experience tumors located within 5 centimeters of the phone, where "90 percent of the radiation" is emitted, study author Dr. Suvi Larjavaara from the University of Tampere in Finland told Reuters Health.

These findings appeared as the World Health Organization announced that, upon review of available scientific evidence, cell phones should be classified as "possibly carcinogenic."

Although the results of the Finnish study may be reassuring, they are certainly not conclusive, Larjavaara cautioned. Cancer can take a long time to develop, and only 5 percent of the people included in the study had been using mobile phones for at least 10 years, the authors note in the American Journal of Epidemiology.

THE WORD

Metro's Monica Weymouth shares her take on the world of gossip @monicaatmetro monica.weymouth@metro.us

– Dorothy Robinson will return on Monday

Why there won't be a new Mrs. Hef

We still can't believe Crystal Harris called off her wedding to Hugh Hefner. And the more we learn about it, the more suspicious it all sounds.

Yesterday, in a call to Ryan Seacrest's morning radio show, the 25-year-old claimed she had been doubting this weekend's nuptials because of Hefner's "lifestyle," and that the decision was a low-drama, mutual one. "We both agreed that it's not in the cards for us. We had a long talk about it. I feel happy and at peace that everything will be OK, and I respect him more than anything, and we're still going to be really close," she explained.

You know what she doesn't explain? Why a seemingly level-headed 25-year-old gets engaged to Hugh Hefner. This was all so much easier when we assumed it was for money.

Hef, what have you got to say about all of this? "Since we're not getting married on Saturday, I've scheduled a movie: Runaway Bride," he tweeted Tuesday.

Hefner and Harris

We're sorry, January Jones!

The last time I filled in on this column, I made some snide little remark about January Jones being as frosty as her "Mad Men" character. But loyal Word reader Maria Grande wrote in to correct me: "One day on my lunch hour I happened upon January Jones walking up Madison Avenue. She was in town doing 'SNL.' I approached and told her that I was a big fan of the show and asked if she would be back for the next season. The thing that really surprised me about Ms. Jones is that she is the antithesis of Betty Draper. Here I was a complete stranger and she was so open and warm. She even shook my hand and thanked me."

Jones

So not only is Jones beautiful, rich, skinny, and paid to make out with Jon Hamm, she's also sweet. Suddenly, I don't like her again.

Here comes another bride

If you thought there was too much royal wedding coverage, just wait until November: Bella Swan and Edward Cullen tie the knot in the next "Twilight" flick. And to start the mania, Summit Entertainment released this little teaser on their Twitter page: "On November 18, see Bella's Carolina Herrera-designed wedding dress in #BreakingDawnPart1!"

Pippa, you've got five months to figure out how to top that. Godspeed.

Talking points

Justin learning to relax

Justin Timberlake has revealed one of his preferred relaxation techniques: smoking marijuana. "The only thing pot does for me is it gets me to stop thinking," Timberlake tells Playboy. "Sometimes I have a brain that needs to be turned off. Some people are just better high." And after working his way from a teen sensation to a successful grown-up musician and now a film star, the chronic overachiever admits he needs a little help to stop and smell the roses. "I feel I'm just getting to a point in my life where I'm looking around, going, there's a lot to enjoy if I can just sit still, actually stop and take more time."

▶ Timberlake

▶ Portman

It's a boy for Portman!

Natalie Portman has given birth to a baby boy, according to People magazine. The Oscar-winning actress and the baby's father, dancer and choreographer Benjamin Millepied, met on the set of "Black Swan" and are engaged. Portman has already confirmed she'll be avoiding the Hollywood spotlight for the time-being: "I'll be out of the public eye after [the baby's born]," Portman told People.

▶ Schwarzenegger

Arnold's mistress speaks

Mildred Baena, the former housekeeper and mother of Arnold Schwarzenegger's illegitimate son, is speaking out, telling Hello! magazine that it was the former California governor's wife, Maria Shriver, that finally brought the issue to light. "Finally, she asked point blank. Maria asked me directly if Joseph was Arnold's son, and I just broke down. I dropped to my knees and I was crying, saying that yes he was and I was so sorry," Baena remembers.

KEN WOROSKER

▶ Noah Wyle stars in "Falling Skies."

3 Must-see new TV series

'Falling Skies'

Premiering Sunday at 9 p.m. on TNT

Six months after an alien invasion of Earth, viewers are introduced to Noah Wyle's Tom Mason, a former history professor and widower who is forced into a monster-fighting hero role in this Steven Spielberg-produced series.

"[Tom] becomes the author of the next set of history," Wyle says of his character. "Since the reset button on humanity has been pushed, the survivors will become the authors of the next gospels or constitution or whatever framework society is going to have to live under."

▶ "Torchwood"

'Torchwood: Miracle Day'

Premiering July 8 at 10 p.m. on Starz

"Torchwood" viewers are a fanatical bunch when it comes to their team of alien hunters. But when the series returns with "Miracle Day" — referring to a phenomenon that has caused humans to live forever — fans shouldn't fret when creator Russell T. Davies calls this a "new launch."

"What this new iteration [asks is] ... 'What is society going to do now?'" says Davies. "Some of those answers are beautiful and brave and some of the answers, looking into the depths of human nature, are terrifying. So I like this forum of science fiction."

MICHAEL BECKER/FX

'Wilfred'

Premiering June 23 at 10 p.m. on FX

The plot of imported Australian comedy "Wilfred" is a bit difficult to explain. So we'll allow star Elijah Wood to do the heavy lifting: "It's about a man who befriends a dog who he sees as a man in a dog suit, right, and the sort of comedy that ensues in the world around them. And ... the dog smokes pot. Yeah."

If comparing it to previous works helps any, the James Stewart film "Harvey" comes to mind. "There's that aspect of that imaginary character relationship that I find really interesting ... so I have certainly used that to describe [the show] to people," Wood says. "It's not the easiest thing to describe."

10 Must-see movies to catch this weekend

2 'Mr. Popper's Penguins' Jim Carrey, as a somewhat self-absorbed dad, is forced to rethink his priorities once he inherits six penguins. And no, they don't talk.

3 'Super 8' One of the most highly anticipated films of the summer, J.J. Abrams' latest monster movie is finally in theaters. It's kind of like "E.T." meets "Goonies" meets "Cloverfield," which can only be a good thing.

4 'Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer' This summer's "Ramona and Beezus" features a plucky third grader sent to stay with her wacky aunt Opal (played by Heather Graham) for the summer.

5 'X-Men: First Class' It's the first time in a while that we can feel genuinely psyched for an X-Men movie, and this one definitely brings the goods as it portrays the beginnings of the X-Men clan in the 1960s.

6 'The Hangover Part II' The men of the wolfpack are back for another evening of unintentional debauchery, this time in Bangkok.

7 'Kung Fu Panda 2' Martial arts performing animals join forces again against an even more insidious enemy. The voices of Jack Black and Angelina Jolie return.

8 'Tree of Life' Terrence Malick's epic story of the creation of Earth interwoven with the story of a young boy growing up in 1950s Texas earned him the Palme d'Or at Cannes this year. For arty types, this is a must-see experience.

9 'Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides' This Disney franchise's fourth installment is such a big deal that no other studios dared to put out a major release on the same weekend it came out. This time around, Captain Jack Sparrow (Johnny Depp) pairs up with Angelica (Penelope Cruz) for another swashbuckling adventure.

10 'Midnight in Paris' Woody Allen's newest movie is easily one of his best in years. Owen Wilson stars as a tourist in Paris who gets swept away to 1920s era France each night to socialize with F. Scott Fitzgerald, Picasso and Hemingway. METRO

Must-see

▶ No evil will escape Ryan Reynolds' sight in 'Green Lantern.'

'Green Lantern'

1 Ryan Reynolds saving lives in a skin-tight suit? Yes, we'll take it, thanks. This comic book adaptation celebrates one of the less notable superheroes, but with the support of co-stars Tim Robbins, Blake Lively and Peter Sarsgaard, this "Lantern" won't go dim.

Reading Joyce, loud and clear

▶ Did these guys come in costume, or are they indie baristas? Your call.

The Rosenbach celebrates Bloomsday with an all-day reading of 'Ulysses' And no, not the entire thing

If you've never managed to quite finish James Joyce's "Ulysses" — or even crack its gigantic cover off its intimidating mountain of pages — you're in luck today. As part of their annual Bloomsday celebration, the Rosenbach Museum and Library will be hosting an all-day, free outdoor reading on Delancey Place.

It's an annual event that's important to the Rosenbach, not just to Philadelphians who have come to rely on it to fake their way through well-read circles. "We have the 'Ulysses' manuscript, the one and only, in the collection," explains Emilie Parker, the museum's director of education (and no, she's never finished the book). "It's always been important for us to do some sort of celebration."

Starting at noon, guest readers — including H.E. Michael Collins, ambassador of Ireland to the United States; Mayor Nutter; and Dito van Reigersberg of Pig Iron Theatre Co. — will read passages of the tome aloud. Even after seven hours, they won't get through the whole thing, although Parker suspects some listeners might be inspired to finish it themselves. "People are interested in 'Ulysses,' and I think being read to from it is less intimidating than sitting down with it alone," she says. "It really is a way of making it accessible: It's out on the street, it's in public and you can come and go as you please."

Making time

Since he's the mayor, does Michael Nutter get his pick of excerpts?

"He actually seems to be a little more concerned with what time he's reading as opposed to the actual passage," says Parker.

What is Bloomsday?

If, like us, you've only pretended to have read Joyce's classic, Bloomsday is the day the book's protagonist, Leopold Bloom, made his journey through Dublin. It's celebrated every year on June 16.

Give me some sugar

Your dessert decisions deserve to be as well-informed as your entree selections. So we asked Ron Paprocki, executive pastry chef at Gordon Ramsay at The London, for tips on how to make the most of a restaurant's after-dinner offerings.

Wine for dessert

"Acidity plays an important role in determining how to pair wine with a dessert," says Paprocki. "A fruity, acidic dessert would pair well with a less acidic wine. Opposites attract, more or less." If you're still confused, don't hesitate to ask for help. "Really, the best thing to do is to ask the sommelier," the chef says. "That's their profession."

Sweets at home — no culinary degree necessary

"Chocolate mousse is fairly simple to make at home," he says. "At Gordon Ramsay, the type of fine dining desserts [we do are] just a bunch of simple to intermediate skill-level items that are put together." Take his twist on pound cake, for example. "You can make a simple pound cake and then [slice it], soak it with a framboise liqueur and simple syrup, top with fresh berries and serve with a nice ricotta or custard."

MEREDITH ENGEL
meredith.engel@metro.us

Q&A: Berry much

What fruits are in season right now?

Strawberries, Paprocki says, and stone fruits like plums, apricots and peaches. "Blueberries, raspberries, red currants and Bing cherries are [also] really nice local fruits to use in the summertime," he says.

3 Sweet tips about the Caribbean and rum

Juan Campos of Brugal Rum — the No. 1 rum in the Caribbean — chats about the popular summertime spirit ◗ Sugar cane, we owe you one

1 There are certain theories about how rum got to the Caribbean. "The sugar cane was brought to Hispaniola, the old name of the Dominican Republic, and Columbus brought it on his second trip from the Canary Islands in 1493," says Campos, who is quick to note that there are many stories about how sugar cane appeared on the island, but this is the most prevalent theory.

2 Brugal Rum is distilled in the Dominican Republic — which is OK by Campos: "If I could change my passport from Spain to the Dominican Republic, I would. People, when they think of the Dominican Republic, they probably think of an all-inclusive resort — but there is a heightened Dominican Republic the deeper you go into the island. Grab a drink on the corner."

3 It just so happens that the fermented sugar cane (the basis of rum) fits perfectly with the Dominican way of life. "Rum goes together with their way of living, thinking and especially the weather," says Campos.

Obama is no superman

RE: "CAPITALISM'S WORST WARRIOR": Obama did not "save" any industries and TARP (the bank bailout) was a Bush policy! The bank and auto bailouts simply reward and encourage risky behavior. The banks and auto industries do not represent capitalism; they represent corporatism (AKA fascism). We, the average citizens, pay for bailouts with taxes and inflation. Universal health care will be an economic disaster like social security and Medicare and Medicaid. You may as well get treated at your local post office.
KELLY DONNOE, VIA E-MAIL

Fixing a mess takes time

RE: "OBAMA: SECRET CAPITALIST": Have you ever seen boys playing with Legos? They build something up then they destroy it. How long do you think it takes to pick up the scattered pieces and rebuild? Even longer than it would to build it in the first place. So four years of rebuilding compared to the eight years of wreaking havoc is still just the beginning.
ALICE THAI, VIA E-MAIL

Out of touch with reality

Republican extremists are as out of touch with reality as when they referred derisively to the "reality-based" community. (They prefer faith-based economic policy.) The economy is not doing as well as it should — Republicans, along with conservative Democrats, blocked much of what would have helped. Yet the Far Wrong has forgotten that in the waning months of the Bush administration "good" economic news was when fewer jobs were lost than expected. Now the economy isn't creating jobs fast enough, but it is creating them.
DAN WYLIE-SEARS, VIA E-MAIL

They are the puppetmasters

The banksters are grabbing land and water in Africa for profits at the expense of the survival of the people there. Goldman Sachs and JPMorgan were named specifically in an article on the reports of these inhumane actions. When will the people wise up and realize these evil people have an evil agenda, they aren't just accidentally doing this stuff? The Oilygarch Bankster agenda is to reduce the world population to 500 million they select and to have all the world's resources to themselves. CHARLES MICHAEL COUCH, VIA E-MAIL

Horoscope

♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. Whether it comes from a good friend or a stranger, any kind of proposal brought to you should be examined for strings attached. Thoroughly check things out first.
♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. Resources shared by you and your mate might be in hot demand from each party. Instead of letting a blowup occur, give in to certain demands.
♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. When having work or a service done for you, be on the spot as much as possible in order to prevent a bad job. Unless you're there to check on what's being done, things could go awry.
♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. Guard against not only your own extravagance urges, but against friends who prod you into spending far more than you should. Both situations bear watching very closely.
♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. Instead of attempting to do far too many things at once, concentrate on only one job at a time, regardless of how much needs to be accomplished. You'll botch up the works if you don't.
♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. Don't even try to talk another into doing something for you that she or he knows you can easily do for yourself.
♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. If your fear of losing is taking precedence over your will to win, you've already been defeated before you've even begun. Believe to achieve.
♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. As resistance to your aims stiffens, so will your possibilities for accomplishment. In order to get things done, you must be tenacious. Fight for your right to get what you want.
♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Think before you act, instead of creating unnecessary problems through uninformed, knee-jerk reactions. Be your own sagacious adviser, not your worst enemy.
♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. Be realistic in assessing your finances and then budget your spending accordingly. Don't pauper yourself through extravagance and, or, borrowing more from others.
♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. If you want to maintain a healthy perspective on issues, temper your grandiose conceptions with a large dose of realism. A balanced outlook will bring you the best results.

Brown in the right spot, at right time

Phillies prized prospect taking advantage of opportunity Has three homers in last five games Quickly making Francisco an afterthought

Nearly two years ago, the whole Phillies organization had its eyes on Pedro Martinez during a rehab start at Double-A Reading.

On Aug. 5, 2009, Martinez impressed.

But it was Domonic Brown who gave them an eye-popping glimpse at the future, when he smacked a 426-foot home run out of FirstEnergy Stadium.

Now, the future is staring them in the face — in right field, at Citizens Bank Park, on a nightly basis. Brown made that point abundantly clear Tuesday night with his first career multihomer game in the majors.

Brown hit a pair of solo shots, including a majestic, second-deck blast to right field with two outs in the seventh inning. The sellout crowd gave him a standing ovation.

"I've been working extra hard, working in the cage, watching film," Brown said. "I want to get better every day."

This season has been quite a roller-coaster ride for the prized prospect. At one point, it seemed shaky whether he would stick or if he would be playing for an extended time at Triple-A Lehigh Valley.

Little Ben

Ben Francisco won the right field job coming out of spring training. But he's struggled ever since. Here are his stats this season:

- Batting average: .220
- Home runs: 6
- RBIs: 25
- Runs: 16
- Stolen bases: 3

After 75 at-bats (not including last night's late game), Brown has 18 hits (.240). Four of those 18 hits are homers.

The Phillies have been searching for that consistent player in right field every day. Ben Francisco and John Mayberry Jr. filled in for a while. Now, it seems to be Brown's turn.

"You have to stay on an even keel in this sport," Brown said. "You can't get too high or too low."

USED CARS $ AS LOW AS 1995

FRED BEANS REPEATS HISTORIC USED CAR SALE

1 DAY ONLY!
SAT. JUNE 18TH

CALL 1-866-920-9612

Doylestown, PA – Fred Beans, CEO and Founder of the Fred Beans Automotive Group located in Doylestown PA, has announced a ONE DAY SALE on Saturday, June 18th at 9:30AM, where pre-owned vehicles will be sold for as low as $1995. This sale is being held due to overwhelming public demand.

Cars will be clearly marked, so come early for the best selection. This is a ONE DAY ONLY sale designed to get the local community ready for the summer road-trip season.

Fred Beans' pre-owned inventory levels need to be reduced to make room for shipments of new models arriving daily. As a result, all 7 Fred Beans Doylestown locations are selling these overstocked pre-owned vehicles to the public at drastic discounts in an attempt to clear excess inventory.

In addition to this huge variety of pre-owned vehicles, the Fred Beans Automotive Group in Doylestown features new Ford, Lincoln, Mitsubishi, Dodge, Chrysler, Jeep, Hyundai, Nissan, Subaru, Chevrolet, Cadillac, Buick, GMC, and Saab vehicles. Fred Beans believes reviving the economy starts at home, and changing things locally will lead to changing things nationally.

In addition to the Fred Beans Automotive Group's extra inventory, additional vehicles have been acquired at incredible prices from various banks, repossession companies, auto auctions, credit unions, lease companies, and rental companies for this sale.

The sale will make pre-owned vehicles available for as low as $1995, prices not normally offered to the general public. According to Fred Beans, "We want to give our customers a reason to believe in the local economy again. Someone has to look out for their best interests."

Customers are encouraged to arrive as early as 9:00AM to inspect the entire inventory and find the car that is right for them. Every vehicle will be cleaned, detailed, and fully prepared for instant delivery. On the evening of June 17th after close of business, Mr. Beans and his team will mark the special sale price on each and every vehicle.

Because Fred Beans' customers are feeling the credit crunch right now, the Fred Beans Automotive Group has given the dealerships' financing managers the resources necessary to get most customers' credit approved on the spot.

The Fred Beans Automotive Group has $10,000,000 in lending power, the result of over 50 years of strong relationships with the area's leading lenders. This means that customers with "less than perfect" credit history can have their credit approved and drive a quality pre-owned car, truck, or SUV home by lunchtime on Saturday.

Even if a customer's credit report shows a bankruptcy, divorce, tax lien, slow payment history, missed payment, or repossession, or if a customer is a first time buyer, Fred Beans may get them approved.

This special ONE DAY ONLY sale will be held at all 7 Fred Beans Doylestown locations this Saturday, June 18th, at 9:30AM. Pre-owned vehicles will be sold for as low as $1995. Customers are encouraged to arrive as early as 9:00AM for the start of inspection. Incredible sale prices, starting as low as $1995, will be posted no later than 9:30AM. All vehicles will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. The Fred Beans Automotive Group is expecting a high volume of customers for this sale, so be sure to reserve your spot early.

Customers wishing to trade-in a vehicle are asked to bring their title or payment book for immediate delivery. Fred Beans will even pay off your trade-in in full, no matter how much you still owe on it.

Most of these surplus pre-owned vehicles will get sent directly to auto auctions for liquidation. So, if anyone has been thinking about purchasing a good, clean, dependable pre-owned car, truck, van or sport utility vehicle, do not miss this special ONE DAY ONLY sale.

For more information about this sale and directions to our locations please visit us online at fredbeans.com or call 1-866-920-9612

3 things we saw at CBP

- Phillies 8, Marlins 1
- Up next: vs. Florida, today, 1:05 p.m.

1 Kendrick's time to shine. Kyle Kendrick allowed a solo home run to Logan Morrison in the first inning. But that was it. Kendrick was terrific in his seven innings of work, allowing just five hits and that one run. He struck out five and walked one. Kendrick's outing has to be encouraging for the Phillies and for himself. In a day-night doubleheader, it was a clutch performance.

2 Wilson being Wilson. Wilson Valdez started the opening game at third base and even added a bases-clearing triple in the third. The versatile utility player just continues to make things happen. He can play a number of positions in the field — including pitcher — and has shown a deft ability to come up with clutch hits. This was another example as he keyed a six-run third.

3 Rollin' right along. Jimmy Rollins had two hits and four RBIs in raising his average to .262. Rollins smacked a three-run homer in the third and seems to be gaining momentum with his swing. If Rollins can get hot, look out. When he plays well, the Phillies usually play well.

Parity reigns at this US Open

The only major star at this year's U.S. Open is Phil Mickelson.

The way the PGA Tour is spinning it, that's a very good thing. Tiger Woods is missing his first Open in 17 years. The more parity, the better.

Guys like Luke Donald, Lee Westwood and Martin Kaymer lead a wide open field, which is set to hit the golf course today at Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Md.

"Some of the younger players came along when Tiger was on a tear, and they were in his shadow," Mark O'Meara said. "He was bigger than life. But now that Tiger is somewhat removed from the game, they've been able to shine." METRO

Lee Westwood and Luke Donald are favorites to win the U.S. Open at 12-1 odds, per Bodog.com.

STEALING FROM THE BACK

Fantasy sports

ADAM LEVITAN
ALEVITAN@METRO.US

Breathe easy. The players and owners are talking and there is almost certainly going to be an NFL season. Now get nervous — your fantasy draft is going down in about two months.

Last week, we mentioned some overvalued players like Peyton Hillis, Tony Gonzalez and Marques Colston. Now we'll move on to the sexy category — undervalued players based on averaged draft position:

Well Staffed

Don't be late on this Lions' offense. It's explosive, pass-happy and ready to bust out on the fast turf. At the controls is strong-armed Matthew Stafford, who has struggled badly with injuries during his two-year career. His monster upside is well worth the injury risk considering his 10th round ADP.

Jordy boy

Jordy Nelson burst onto the scene in the Super Bowl, catching nine passes for 140 yards with a touchdown. Now Donald Driver is a year older and James Jones may walk in free agency. Nelson is the No. 2/3 receiver on the best offense in football.

Hoop dreams

Jimmy Graham is a college basketball player/NFL tight end. Sound familiar? In the vein of Tony Gonzalez and Antonio Gates, Graham is going to be a red-zone target for the Saints.

Matthew Stafford's offense is built for a big fantasy season.

NBA news

Prince James

LeBron James' epic choke in the Finals does not affect his fantasy status. He remains the No. 2 player, trailing only Kevin Durant.

MLB trading

Here are two to target in trade talks as we approach the halfway mark:

1 Carlos Gonzalez, OF, COL — His numbers are down off last year's breakout, but do not fear. CarGo is one of the top talents there is.

2 Mark Teixeira, 1B, NYY — Baseball's most notorious second-half hitter figures to raise his average by 10-20 points.

The alterna-bride

- Nevermind the outdated notions of virginal purity that come pinned to the traditional white dress — sometimes a woman just wants to wear color
- Here's some advice about how to do it without blending in with the guests

Go for shimmer
Halston Heritage plisse gown, $995, www.cusp.com
A wedding is probably the only day in your life where it's perfectly OK for you to expect to be the center of attention. Milk it for all it's worth — without going all bridezilla — by opting for metallic fabrics or crystal embellishments that make it clear who the woman of the hour is.

Play with color codes
Notte by Marchesa, $795, www.netaporter.com
Flip tradition altogether by turning your wedding into a white party and then showing up in lipstick red.

Color on a budget
ASOS pleated dress, $259, www.asos.com
For you romantic types, a soft, pastel pink can be just as sweet as ivory.

Make the most of your florals
Stella McCartney, $2,399, www.stellamccartney.com
You've chosen a sweet, classic dress for your city hall ceremony that you can actually wear again and again — yay! — but you don't want to get lost in the mix of relatives and friends showing up to the big, fancy after-party. Carry a lush, bold bouquet to make sure there's no question who the wedding photographer should be looking for in the crowd.

Little white dress

With ivory being such a big trend for spring-summer '11, the shops are full of pretty frocks that scream wedding without looking saccharine or uncool. A bride-to-be could easily find her dress without ever setting foot into a bridal salon — and wear it over and over after the big day.

Keep in touch with the caterers

You should touch base with your caterers six to eight weeks before, a month before and the week of your wedding, advises Kalman. "The Monday before the big day, you want to contact every vendor and make sure they have all the information they need, you have all the information you need or if there are any last-minute changes."

▶ PRO TIP: You should have every vendor's cell phone number, advises Kalman.

Put your money on the photos

"Photography is probably the most important expense because at the end of the day, the only thing that lasts besides your marriage are the photos," says Kalman. She also advises splurging on a hair and makeup artist.

▶ Know your timeline
"You need to ask the venue, 'How many hours does my team have to set up and break down?'" says Kalman. "They might only give you an hour, in which case those lanterns hanging from the ceiling of the tent might not be physically able to happen."

▶ Have an emergency kit
In it, Kalman says to pack: double-stick tape, mints, lots of safety pins in all sizes, a sewing kit, Band-Aids and spray deodorant.

▶ DIY project cutoff
"My rule is: The Tuesday or Wednesday before the wedding weekend, if your DIY project is not completed, just let it go," says Kalman. "Your guests are not going to be disappointed if you don't have a rhinestone glued on to the 'I' in your name. It's better to be calm, stress-free and well-rested."

Plan for the worst

Been dreaming about an outdoor wedding? You have to accept the fact that it might rain on your big day. "I really try to get my brides to imagine her worst-case scenario, and get herself OK with the idea that if something changes, and say, it's not gorgeous outside, it's still going to be magical and gorgeous inside," explains Kalman. "It's really important to keep a positive attitude on your wedding day because negativity rolls down from the bride."

▶ PRO TIP: Planning an outdoor affair? Kalman recommends keeping a tent on hold. "They require a deposit and then a couple of days before, based on the weather reports, you can determine whether you're going to actually need it or not," she says.
